The invitation is free of charge.
Exclusive for professionals in the sector.

The International Exhibition of Food Technology, Additives, and Ingredients awaits you with the latest trends in the sector.

Don't miss the schedule of activities that will allow you to update yourself, establish new contacts, and access strategic information provided by prominent specialists.

Be part of the largest food technology exhibition in the region that brings together manufacturers and suppliers of equipment, supplies, and services for the food industry in one place.

Much more than an exhibition:

Product exhibition and demonstrations / Presentations and events / Networking spaces / Launches / Technical talks and seminars

We look forward to seeing you!
